Mingle School of Real Estate, instructors recognized

CHARLOTTE, N.C. – The Mingle School of Real Estate was recognized by the North Carolina Real Estate Commission (NCREC) for achieving an outstanding record of student performance on the N.C. Real Estate License Examination for the period July 1, 2008-June 30, 2009. Eighty-seven out of 109 first-time candidates, or 80 percent, who took the real estate licensing exam within 180 days of completing the approved pre-licensing course at Mingle passed the exam. Mingle School instructors Tim Terry, DREI, and Rashad Phillips were recognized for achieving an outstanding record of student performance on this exam.

In addition, the North Carolina Real Estate Educators Association (NCREEA) presented instructor Gary Taylor, DREI, with the Emeritus Award at the NCREC 2010 Spring Educators Conference. Taylor was recognized for his personal contributions to the real estate profession and his long-term commitment to real estate education and NCREEA. “Gary has been teaching at Mingle School since 1986 and has been an inspiration to many instructors and students. He has been a strong leader and helped shape real estate education in the state,” says Karyn Lindsey, director of Mingle.

The Mingle School of Real Estate is the official school of real estate for the Charlotte Regional Realtor® Association and is one of the oldest and most successful real estate pre-licensing schools in North Carolina. Its real estate and appraisal pre-licensing, post-licensing and continuing-education courses are approved by the North Carolina Real Estate Commission (NCREC) and the North Carolina Appraisal Board.
